Learn2change

Global Network of Educational Activists

Network

Learn2Change connects civil society activists from all over the world who believe that global exchange, mutual learning and educational cooperation contribute to an ecologically sound and globally just transformation. We work with various topics, target groups and methods. This diversity is a treasure and strength. We draw from each other's teaching, learning and unlearning experiences and exchange philosophies, ideas, skills and methodologies of learning and social change.

Goals

Learn2Change aims to exchange, foster and implement new approaches of learning and social change through global partnerships. By learning from each other, we seek to search and nurture stories of unconventional wisdom and alternative social practice across borders so as to decolonize our hearts and minds and relink to our shared earth. The members of Learn2Change believe in an education that is inclusive, participatory, empowering and experiential, appreciating the varied and unique approaches to learning.

Activities

Learn2Change creates opportunities for the sharing and distribution of concepts, best practices, lived in experiences and methodologies of learning and social change by face-to-face meetings, research, conferences, e-learning and online dialogue. It connects people on a local, regional and global level, uniting, informing and coordinating their efforts for change.

Get in

Learn2Change aims to create an open and democratic network of equal actors that respect each other's diversity and particular perspectives. It welcomes every global citizen to partake in this forum and contribute and draw from it both digitally and in face-to-face interventions.
